Energy W.A.V.E.
Manage pain and stress, increase vitality, enhance health, boost joy, and send healing to areas of the body that need attention.

Speaker Topics:

What's Energy Got to Do with It? Headaches? Back or neck pain? Overwhelm? Experience giving and receiving healing energy to boost relaxation, open yourself to more joy, and ease pain. (Group Session Only)

Drive of Your Life: Navigating Life, you may plan routes and destinations yet personal and work "detours" and "roadblocks" appear. Explore shifting your body "vehicle" into "energy gear" to help navigate the drive of your life.

Building Energy: The body provides power to all its structures and spaces, and they can be strengthened to build and maintain health of your body, mind and spirit.

Lions, Tigers & Bears: Anxiety, panic, and depression can feel like invisible lions, tigers, & bears with very real physical and emotional claws. Recognize their signs and add energy techniques to your self-care plan to tame them.

Energy of Intuition: You intuitively "know" emotions, thoughts, and stresses of people you work, meet, and live with--what's happening? Energies can be contagious. Easy-to-use energy tools can protect you and help you release energies of other people.

The Energy Way: When our best intentions are interrupted by situations or people, stress can become our auto-pilot. Planes have autopilot features, but a pilot is still needed to set course, take off, and land safely. Discover how to turn off auto-pilot stress-induced pain, overwhelm, anxiety, or depression to think, move, and feel better.

At Work for You! Most people have too much energy rather than not enough. People at work or at home can also give you their stressful energies—but you can teach your energies to work for you!

Speaker's Energy Bio

A former associate professor in post-secondary education, Penny is a Certified Practitioner of Eden Energy Medicine and Bars® Practitioner with a B.S. in Business Education. In her private practice, Penny works with clients to provide healing support and ease pain so they can live with more freedom.

Researchers have found ways to measure a body's energy field, and non-invasive energy therapies can open a body to healing while improving well-being. Sessions with Penny to balance the body's energy systems can supplement the management and care of chronic/acute pain, stress, depression, anxiety, women's health, migraines, autoimmune disorders, and other acute or chronic conditions.
